BRYAN SCORES THE TRUSTS.

Hypocrisy of Those Who Profess to Fear the Laws Will Not Be Enforced.

M'KINLEY IS SILENT.

The Republican Candidate Has Not a Word to Say Against the Trusts, for They Own Him.

Mr. Bryan, on the Other Hand, Declares That, If Elected, He Will Use All the Power of the Law, and, If Necessary, Ask for More Law to Suppress Them.

Mr.Bryan and Maj. McKinley are making speeches daily to crowds of people. Mr. Bryan discusses every issue involved in the campaign in the most direct and unequivocal manner. He does not quibble and he evades nothing. He is especially outspoken in opposition to and denunciation of the trusts, syndicates and combinations formed to throttle legitimate business and exact unreasonable profits from the peo-

Maj. McKinley, on the other hand, deals largely in generalities and meaningless platitudes, and seems all the Chicago, Oct. 1 .- (Special.) -Mark | time to be trying to talk without saying anything. He uses words chiefly to conceal his ideas, if, indeed, he has ideas. He is direct and explicit in nothing. He is especially silent and evasive on the subject of trusts, syndicates and combinations, and doesn't even seem to know that such things exist. His silence in regard to them can mean nothing else than his indorsement of them, if not, indeed, their absolute ownership of him. If Me-Kinley should be elected, every trust and syndicate and ring and combination in restraint of trade in all the land

the law was Mr. Bryan's severe denunciation of the trusts in his recent speech in Tammany hall. Mr. Bryan began his remarks with a reference to the charge recently made in a speech by ex-President Harrison that the democratic national platform is a menace to the government, and followed that with his denunciation of the trusts. He said: "My friends, I call your attention to the fact that Ex-President Harrison asserts that our platform places the government in danger. If that were true, we might question to consider wherein it menaces the continuation of constitutional government, and there is nothing in the Chicago platform that menaces constitutional government. There is nothing in the Chicago platform that would make the executive of the United States feeble in enforcing all the laws of the nation or feeble in defending the constitution of the nation; and there is nothing in that platform that assails the integrity or questions the honesty of the supreme court of the United States or of any one state. (Applause.) "I challenge you to read that platform and find in that platform a single sentence that justifies the language used by the ex-president. "Our criticism of the supreme court is form upon which Abraham Lincoln was elected in 1800. The language that I have used in regard to the supreme court has not been as severe as the language used by Abraham Lincoln, both before his election and after his election to the presi-dency. [Applause.] There is nothing in our platform concerning the invasion of the state by federal troops; that appears in force and is emphasized in the platform of 1800 upon which Mr. Lincoln was elected. There is nothing that has been said in the platform or by its candidate that justifies the charge that the democratic party is assailing constitutional govern-ment or interfering with the preservation

"I shall go further than that. If Mr. Harrison wants to raise the question of the survival of our government, I am willing to meet him on that proposition. (Applause.) "My friends, in so far as the republicans and former democrats [hisses] have criticised my election as a menace to law and order, I want to say to you that their fear is not that as an executive I will be lay in the enforcement of law; their fear is that as an executive I would not respect persons.
